TOWN CONSTRUCTION UPDATES

Fiber Broadband Phase 2:

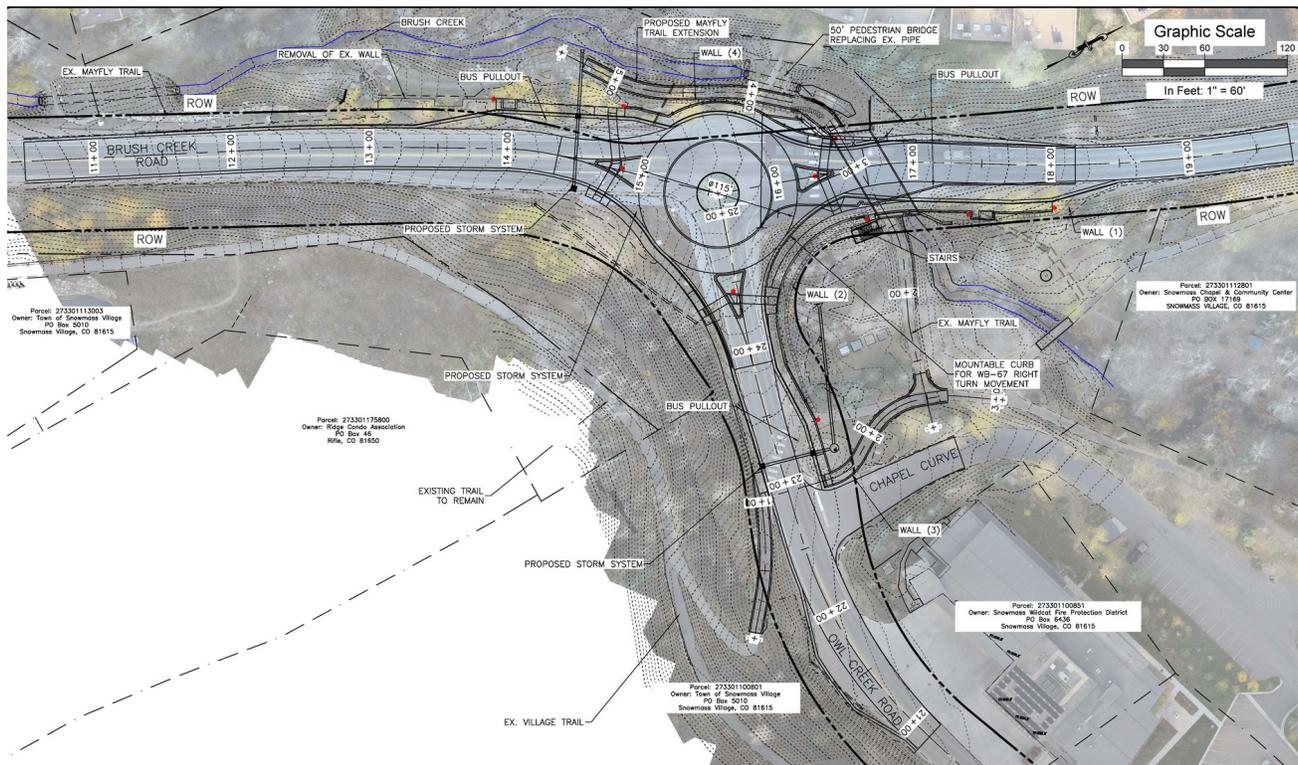

- The Fiber Phase 2 project received two bids. The project team will award the contract to the selected contractor within the week. Construction will be completed throughout summer/fall 2024 throughout the Village.

Little Red School House:

- The project team continues to refine the revised design for expanding early childcare education opportunities at the Little Red Schoolhouse. The design will be presented to the Town Council in June to get approval to submit a development application.

Proposed Roundabout at Brush Creek Road & Owl Creek Road:

- The Town of Snowmass, with the design consultant team from SGM, have continued with the civil engineering design for a proposed single-lane roundabout at the intersection of Owl Creek Road and Brush Creek Road.
- The proposed roundabout replaces the existing T-intersection and includes pavement reconstruction, additional bus stops, sidewalks, retaining walls, storm drainage, utility relocations, water line installation, and trail improvements.
- The Town is working with utility providers to have the necessary aging utility infrastructure upgraded simultaneously as part of this infrastructure project.
- This project improves safety and aging infrastructure while also addressing the existing intersection's failing level of service for turning moves at peak hour traffic.
- The design team is working on landscaping rendering and will present it to the Town Council later this summer, along with budget estimates.

TOWN CONSTRUCTION UPDATES

Draw Site Workforce Housing Project:

Following the adoption of the 2021 Workforce Housing Master Plan, staff has been developing new employee housing opportunities on the parcel of land behind the Town Hall known as the Draw Site. This site was identified for employee housing when it was deeded to the Town nearly 40 years ago. The site is in close proximity to the Snowmass Center, transit stops, and existing infrastructure.

The design team, headed by Site Architects from Carbondale, has taken a “site-first” approach to providing housing at this location and has begun the design process. The site is steep and surrounded by hillsides, so designers have minimized the need for retaining walls and hill cuts by creating a design that sits into the mountainside and rises with the elevation. They are planning for a fully underground parking garage structure with two residential above. A sizable courtyard would be between the two towers to provide access for emergency vehicles and offer a flexible, green outdoor amenity for all tenants. Early floorplans would offer a view of the mountain from virtually every apartment and would include substantial common space, including a rooftop deck. The building would offer 79 one-, two- and three-bedroom apartments for people working in Snowmass Village.

Design and engineering planning will proceed throughout the spring, summer and fall of 2024. Due to the size of the development, there will likely be a ballot question for voters in November to approve or deny it, as well as opportunities for residents to express their thoughts by commenting at a Town Council meeting.

Locals may also be interested in the Town’s plans to purchase the land behind the Snowmass Center for future housing development. That site, combined with the Center site, received approval several years ago to develop 65 free-market housing units. However, the developer did not move forward with that plan, and the Town is presently in negotiations with the owner to purchase just the residential, undeveloped portion. Together with the Draw Site, this land provides an opportunity to build a mountainside neighborhood that provides a range of housing options that serve entry-level employees, mid-level managers, families and seniors. Stay tuned for news on the progress of this acquisition.

SUSTAINABILITY & ENERGY EFFICIENCY RESOURCES & REBATES FOR RESIDENTS & BUSINESSES

Cutting your carbon footprint doesn't mean you have to drain your savings.

CORE- Community Office for Resource Efficiency

CORE provides funding for energy efficiency improvement projects for residential, commercial, multifamily buildings and offers additional funding for community priority participants.

Have an old furnace? Consider upgrading to a heat pump. The Community Office for Resource Efficiency (CORE) provides funding for heat pumps and other energy-saving projects, up to $15,000 for individuals or $200,000 for multifamily buildings.

For details, including application guidelines, visit AspenCORE.org/savings-finder.

Holy Cross Energy Rebates

New income-qualified rebates for energy efficiency and electrification projects

For 2024, we're excited to offer our income-qualified residential members expanded rebates on energy efficiency and electrification projects.

If your household income falls under 150% of your county's Area Median Income, we'll rebate 50% of your qualifying total project cost up to $7,500/year. Learn More

These incentives offered by the co-op help members offset initial costs for energy-efficient upgrades, ultimately cutting overall energy consumption, reducing individual energy bills, and promoting the adoption of electric alternatives over fossil fuels like natural gas or propane. For more information, visit holycross.com/rebates

In addition to receiving funding from CORE for energy-saving projects, and Holy Cross Energy, you may be eligible for additional funding through the State of Colorado, or the Federal Inflation Reduction Act.
