Re: Info Update

IS IT HALLOWEEN OR CHRISTMAS MORNING?

Ski Co had its snow guns operating on Fanny Hill this morning. That beats a full size Snickers bar.

TID BITS:

- As of this afternoon, we have not received any new information regarding the bleachers. We won't schedule another meeting on the topic until we have additional information for the Council to consider. We understand we should expect more detail sometime next week (ish).
- Welcome Kevin Rayes. He has survived his first week as our new Housing Director.
- We are working to finalize our grant agreement for the $850K of wildfire mitigation work next year.
- As you are aware, Slope and Hatch will be operating in the Collective this winter (and hopefully for many winter to come). They received their sign permit this week.
- We currently have two open patrol officer positions in the PD. Our hiring process has begun in earnest. We are scheduling written tests for applicants. Those passing the written test will move on to the rid-a-long phase. During this phase they are required to ride with different officers for three shifts (two dayshift rides and one nightshift ride). Then, after all that, interview panels, etc.
- The County is standing up the Criminal Justice Coordinating Committee again. Originally tasked with jail design, the goal of reconvening the CJCC is to strengthen coordination across our criminal justice system by providing a comprehensive forum for collaboration on items such as jail operations, early case resolution, program alternatives, high utilizers and field operations, and other systemic issues.
- Congrats to Zach Wilcher and Cory Rhea on their recent promotions and to Michelle Mack on finishing her field training requirements.
- After eating all that candy this weekend, be sure to check out the new equipment at the Recreation Center.
